Report Instructions and Information

Tips when completing the report:

All questions in one section must be answered before the survey will advance to the next section. You must advance to the end of the form to save your answers.

Districts/charters may wish to enter short text as a placeholder to advance in the form and return at a later time to answer the question.

Equitable Access to Effective and Diverse Teachers

Staffing should be in place by the start of the 2019-20 school year. Report on your equitable access to excellent and diverse educators for the start of the 2019-20 school year.

WBWF Requirement: WBWF requires districts and charters to have a process in place to ensure students from low income families, students of color, and American Indian students are not taught at disproportionate rates by inexperienced, out-of-field, and ineffective teachers. The legislation also requires that districts have strategies to increase access to teachers who reflect the racial and ethnic diversity of students.

While districts/charters may have their own local definitions, please note the definitions developed by Minnesota stakeholders during the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) state plan development process:

An ineffective teacher is defined as a teacher who is not meeting professional teaching standards as defined in local teacher development and evaluation (TDE) systems.

An inexperienced teacher is defined as a licensed teacher who has taught for three or fewer years.

An out-of-field teacher is defined as a licensed teacher who is providing instruction in an area which he or she is not licensed.

The term “equitable access gap” refers to the difference between the rate(s) at which students from low income families, students of color, and American Indian students are taught by inexperienced, out-of-field, or ineffective teachers and the rate at which other students are taught by the same teacher types. This is not to be confused with the “achievement gap” (how groups of students perform academically); rather, “equitable access gap” is about which student groups have privileged or limited access to experienced, in-field, and effective teachers.

Districts/charters are encouraged to monitor the distribution of teachers and identify equitable access gaps between and within schools, but they may also make comparisons to the state averages or to similar schools. It is important to note that some of the most significant equitable access gaps occur at the school and classroom level.

Districts/charters may also use other indicators of “effectiveness” such as teachers receiving stronger evaluations overall, teachers with strengths in particular dimensions of practice (e.g., culturally responsive practices), teachers certified by the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, or teachers with demonstrated student growth and achievement results.

Describe your process for ensuring students of color, American Indian students and students from low income families have equitable access to experienced, in-field, and effective teachers.

How did the district examine equitable access data? What data did you look at? How frequently do you review the data?

Who was included in conversations to review equitable access data?

(200 word limit)

Kato Public Charter School (KPCS) seeks to hire tier 3 and tier 4 licensed teachers in core content areas. KPCS hires tier 1 and 2 teachers in supplemental, supportive, or transitional, rolls. Equitable access discussions take place among KPCS Board members, the director, the leadership team and community stakeholders. KPCS leadership conducts annual reviews and evaluations of all teachers providing instruction to students. KPCS completes the annual STARR reporting required by MDE. Teacher contracts are renewed each year and reviewed for changes in teacher experience and qualifications. Professional development and continuing education requirements are focused on maximizing and developing effective teachers.

What strategies has the district initiated to improve student equitable access to experienced, in-field, and effective teachers?

What goal(s) do you have to reduce and eventually eliminate equitable access gaps?

(200 word limit)

The district has worked very hard to improve our students' equitable access to experienced and effective teachers by hiring the most experienced applicants from our applicant pool. Our goal is to hire and retain a diverse selection of teachers for 3-5 years to build on their experience and effectiveness through mentorship and professional development.

WBWF Requirement: WBWF requires districts and charters to examine student access to licensed teachers who reflect the racial and ethnic diversity of students. A growing body of research has demonstrated that all students benefit when they are taught by racially and ethnically diverse staff throughout their career, and students of color and indigenous students benefit even more. Consequently, working to increase teacher racial diversity is beneficial to all schools.

Describe your efforts to increase the racial and ethnic diversity of teachers in your district.

Which racial and ethnic student groups are present in your district that are not yet represented in your licensed teacher staff? How many additional teachers of color and American Indian teachers would you need in order to reflect your student population?

(200 word limit)

The ethnic groups present in our district that are not represented in our licensed teaching staff are Hispanic-Latino, American Indian-Alaskan Native, North American Indian, Asian, and Hawaiian/Pacific Islander. We would need 3-5 teachers that represent the racial and ethnic groups not represented in our teaching staff. We continue to advertise through word of mouth, employment and social media sites.

What strategies has the district initiated to increase and retain teachers of color and American Indian teachers in the district? What goal(s) are you pursuing?

(200 word limit)

KPCS creates uniform job descriptions that are accessible through the school website, Edpost and various social media outlets. Our goal is focused on hiring highly qualified and content specific teachers of color that represent our student population. We work to retain our teachers by developing them as leaders in the school and allowing their professional voice to be represented in school decisions through leadership teams and possible school board positions.

Local Reporting of Teacher Equitable Access to Effective and Diverse Teachers Data

Districts are required to publicly report data on an annual basis related to student equitable access to teachers, including data on access for low-income students, students of color, and American Indian students to experienced, in-field, and effective teachers and data on all student access to racially and ethnically diverse teachers.

For this 2019-20 WBWF summary report submission, please check the boxes to confirm that your district publicly reported this data.
